Which will you do first?

“100 things to do in Luxembourg” is a collection of attractions and activities as numerous as they are varied, in a country where the next unmissable place is never far away. Whether on foot, by bike, car, bus or train, in each region you can easily discover characteristic and as well as surprising tourist sights, be it premium walking and cycling routes, thrilling museums, world heritage, architectural marvels or culinary treasures. Enjoy many of them at a discount, or even free of charge, with the LuxembourgCard.

“100 things to do” mirrors this diversity – without rating them or claiming to be comprehensive, because there are far more than 100 things to do in Luxembourg.

Enjoy!

Vibrant and welcoming

Luxembourg is not big, but it is exceptionally dynamic and cosmopolitan. A place where people from 170 nations are on the move daily, you will hear plenty of different languages spoken. Whether restaurants, cafés, shops, museums or bars – everything is within easy reach.

The entire old town is a UNESCO World Heritage site and the ideal place for a relaxed stroll and a fascinating glimpse into the history of the city and country, which go hand-in-hand. Wander through the streets, keeping your eyes peeled, and on every corner you will discover a unique mixture of modernity and tradition.

On a human scale, yet full of thrilling contrasts – that's how Luxembourg City will charm you.

Bock Casemates: a UNESCO World Heritage Site

The Bock Casemates, a subterranean defence system made up of kilometres of tunnels, is today one of the most important visitor sites in Luxembourg. These underground galleries were initially carved in the 17th century, under Spanish rule, and subsequently twice extended. Visiting the archaeological crypt, the antechamber to the casemates, is a similarly remarkable experience. On account of these impressive fortifications, Luxembourg was even given the epithet of the "Gibraltar of the North". Discover the tumultuous history of the casemates and take in wonderful views of the Grund, Clausen and Pfaffenthal districts.

Wenzel circular walk through a UNESCO World Heritage Site

This circular walk through time and place shows you 1,000 years of cultural and natural history. It passes through the famous Bock casemates and the Old Town, links the upper and lower parts of the city, offers breathtaking panoramic views of the fortifications dating back to the time when Luxembourg was the “Gibraltar of the North”. The walk takes you through the lush Alzette valley where you can experience the green oasis within the city and take a break for something to eat and drink in idyllic surroundings. Once you're ready to keep going, there is a free lift to take you back up to the city centre.

Casino Luxembourg: beyond the mainstream

The “Casino Luxembourg – Forum d’art contemporain” is dedicated to contemporary art. Creative artists from Luxembourg and the surrounding area have the chance to present themselves and their work in a dynamic environment that is far removed from a traditional art gallery and mainstream ambience; there is an artist-in-residence programme here as well as workshops. The arts centre is centrally located in Luxembourg’s capital city and also features a library where you can browse and read art books and exhibition catalogues, a small bookshop and a stylish café-restaurant.

Lëtzebuerg City Museum: living history of the city

This museum brings the capital's more than one thousand years of history to life: "The Luxembourg Story" is a permanent exhibition that shows the development of the city through countless original artefacts and models, some of them incorporating multimedia animations. The new UNESCO Visitor Centre fits in perfectly here and continues the same historic theme, while two further floors of the museum house temporary exhibitions. The Lëtzebuerg City Museum is housed in four historic buildings which were built between the 17th and 19th centuries, in some cases on medieval foundations. A special highlight is the vast glass lift that can carry up to 65 people at a time along the ancient walls inside the museum.

Mudam – Museum of Modern Art

Mudam is a place of sheer aesthetic delight. The building alone, designed by the Chinese-American architect Ieoh Ming Pei, is worth a visit. Mudam is a venue for all artistic disciplines, including painting, sculpture and video art. Its collections and programme – from children's workshops to after-work events – reflect current national and international creative trends. Visitors can enjoy regional specialities in the bright design café. Mudam is located right next to the historic Fort Thüngen in the Dräi Eechelen Park and blends perfectly into its historic surroundings. Permanent and temporary exhibitions are also installed in the park, from where you can admire views of the city across the valley.

National Museum of Natural History – “natur musée”:

Natural history and the natural sciences are presented here in a simple yet fascinating way: in addition to its permanent exhibition, the “natur musée” regularly hosts special and focused exhibitions all about plants, animals and the universe. It's educational, lively and unusual. The museum's two gardens, shop and cafeteria are also pleasant places to spend time. The museum is located in the charming Grund district and can be easily reached via the lift from the Plateau St. Esprit or on foot along the picturesque cobbled streets surrounding the Corniche.

National Museum of History and Art

The National Museum of History and Art contains some unexpected treasures such as a mosaic from the Roman villa at Vichten dating back to 240 AD, or beautiful Art Deco items from the porcelain manufacturer Villeroy & Boch. The museum, which covers a total area of 6200m<sup>2</sup>, is situated in the heart of the UNESCO-listed Old Town, between the Grand Ducal Palace and the Bock casemates, and brings Luxembourg's history to life with a series of themed tours. For example, very appropriately, the museum's archaeological collections can be admired in rooms carved into the rock face. The contemporary art rooms house works by the world-famous photographer Edward Steichen. The museum shop and cafeteria round off the cultural experience.

Dräi Eechelen Museum: Fortress, History, Identity

A fortified castle becomes a cultural centre: the Dräi Eechelen Museum is located inside the renovated Fort Thüngen, first built in 1732-33, and is right next to the Mudam, Museum of Modern Art. The museum's historic home is itself an important element in the permanent exhibition there entitled "Fortress, History, Identity". With its impressive underground tunnels and mines, the building still largely remains as it was when it was last extended in 1836/37. On a guided tour, visitors can discover over 600 objects and original documents on permanent display behind the fortified walls. On the first floor, the museum regularly presents special contemporary exhibitions.

Villa Vauban – Luxembourg City Art Museum

The Villa Vauban is located in the heart of the city, surrounded by historic parkland that is the perfect place for relaxation. The stately urban villa was built in 1873 on foundations that date back to the time when Luxembourg was a fortified town. A modern extension has been added and the building was completely refurbished in the early 2000s. The museum presents changing exhibitions based on its own collections (European art from the 17th to the 19th century and Luxembourgish art from the 20th and 21st centuries).

Neumünster Abbey cultural centre

Nowadays, the former Benedictine abbey in the iconic Grund district of the city is an open, welcoming venue for concerts and festivals, although for a long time the large building served as a prison. Following extensive restoration, it has been a public meeting place and cultural centre since 2004. Its purpose is to strengthen Luxembourg's cultural identity and promote intercultural dialogue. The abbey offers a programme of concerts, plays and artists-in-residence as well as a range of free exhibitions that are open daily. The lovely terrace of the Brasserie Wenzel offers excellent views of the fortress. Try vegan brunch on Saturdays from 11:00 or live jazz and brunch on Sundays at 11:00. Guided tours can be arranged on request.

MORE THINGS TO DO CAPITAL

Minor treats and major architecture

Discover the pulsating, yet simultaneously laid back green city on foot and by using free public transport, such as the modern tram. Let loose and follow your fancy to places that make your stroll an unforgettable experience. Through sprawling parks and winding valleys, over cobblestones and past unique and charming buildings from practically every era of architecture; from the Upper Town, connected by bridge with the modern Kirchberg district, to the Lower Town with its Alzette and Pétrusse rivers and the historic districts of the Grund, Clausen and Pfaffenthal.

No matter where you start your tour, delights great and small lie in store. In the Upper Town, you can check out the window displays in the country's most famous delicatessens and stock up on pralines or other sweet and savoury treats; whether shopping at Oberweis, Namur, Kaempff-Kohler or in Nathalie Bonn's Chocolate House. In fact, the Grand Ducal family is a customer at some of these prestigious, tradition-rich stores. You can also find a wide variety of products from Luxembourg in the Luxembourg House, right by the Grand Ducal Palace.

Do you always make time for a little shopping? In the Upper Town, well-known brands, attractive jewellery stores and luxury boutiques await in the area around the Place d'Armes and the famous Place Guillaume II, alias the "Knuedler", where you can also find an array of craft shops, galleries, flower shops and an ever-changing selection of pop-up stores, all located between inviting terraces, bars, iconic squares and historic buildings. The station district has its own special appeal and the main shopping streets here are the Avenue de la Gare and the Avenue de la Liberté. Locals delight in taking a stroll through the Upper Town and being a part of the easy-going atmosphere, for example at open-air concerts or markets on the Knuedler or the Place d'Armes.

Every Wednesday and Saturday morning on the Knuedler, you will find plenty more things that make life beautiful. Along with culinary specialities why not dive into the colourful goings-on of a traditional weekly market, including a flower market. You can find an overview of the all markets in Luxembourg City here:

www.maart.lu

Out and about at the weekend? If so, the "Kinneks" city park is the place to have a truly relaxing time on the large lawns. In summer, many people take advantage of the free games hire service as well as the yoga and other sports that take place. In the summer months, festivals and events make the Kinnekswiss a popular evening destination too.

Are traces of the past something that appeal to you? In Notre-Dame Cathedral you will encounter a piece of the city's history; its crypt is the final resting place of the remains of King John the Blind. Luxembourg's biggest annual fair dates back to him: the "Schueberfouer", held annually in August. The cathedral itself is a building flooded with light that combines stylistic elements from the Late Gothic, Renaissance and Baroque periods. Generally, in Luxembourg's old town you will come across a wide range of building styles alongside each other. The Jugendstil, too, has lent its playful appeal to a number of façades, for example around the Avenue de la Liberté.

Do you want to get to know the Lower Town? Take a trip – free of charge – along the UNESCO-protected city walls in the Pfaffenthal glass lift. You can take in the impressive panoramic views over the Alzette valley from the viewing platform at the top as well as throughout the journey up or down. Reaching the Pfaffenthal district at the bottom, quaint cafés, restaurants and shops are dotted around, along with the Mohrfels Mill, one of the country's oldest water mills and the former production site of the Moutarderie de Luxembourg mustard factory. The valley is spanned by the Grand Duchess Charlotte Bridge, also known locally as the Red Bridge. At weekends during the summer, you can try a historical Urban Time Travel augmented reality experience in Pfaffenthal and hop on a virtual coach trip through the past.

www.urbantimetatravel.com

From Pfaffenthal, it is a short walk to the Grund district, which you can also reach from the Upper Town directly, taking a lift from the Plateau du Saint-Esprit. At the bottom, head over the picturesque bridge and pause to see the iconic view of the layered city. A stroll along the banks of the Alzette river, past the urban apple orchard, will take you to a bench with Melusina the water nymph seated on it, from the legend about the founding of Luxembourg. In the Grund, there are plenty of opportunities for grabbing a bite to eat: from wine bars and Japanese specialities to casual pubs and fine dining. Whether it is culinary delights or nightlife that you are after - the bars and restaurants housed in the old factory halls of the Rives de Clausen, also located in the Lower Town, are a popular meeting place for locals and tourists. Clausen is home to a long tradition in the art of brewing in Luxembourg.

The Pétrusse valley is a wildly romantic place. Steep slopes and unusual rock formations form a harmonious whole with the ruins of fortresses and strongholds, spanned by two bridges, the Passerelle and the Adolphe Bridge. As well as the fitness park and children's play areas, Luxembourg City created a large Skatepark Pétruss for all levels of practice in the valley. This modern park nestles in the remnants of the old fortifications. Over a total area of 3,400m<sup>2</sup>, the young and still young-at-heart have fun, skate or ride BMX; the park has a distinctive atmosphere, inviting passersby to stop and watch.

2, Rue Saint-Quirin,
2327 Luxembourg, Luxembourg

Another place where you can catch your breath is the Dräi Eechelen park in Kirchberg, around 2km away from the historic city centre.

It invites visitors to stroll amidst an interplay of modern, architecturally-inspiring buildings and former fortress walls. It is where people come to watch sunsets and the wonderful cityscape above the valley.

In the district of Kirchberg, with its international feel, you will find many fascinating architectural features: whether the impressive the Mudam modern art museum, designed by Ieoh Ming Pei, or other prominent buildings, from EU high-rise offices to banks, residential buildings, restaurants and shopping centres. Thematic guided walks focusing on architecture and art in public spaces are organised, among others, by the Order of Architects and the Fonds Kirchberg.

www.architektur.lu

Outside Architecture/Art, inside Sound/Wonder: visit the striking Philharmonie concert hall. Musicians of international standing and the Luxembourg Philharmonic Orchestra perform here. The characteristic architecture of the building captivates passersby and visitors with its many white columns and a perfectly-matched lighting concept, designed by Christian de Portzamparc.

www.philharmonie.lu

The various theatres in Luxembourg City offer a programme of national and international performances, from the intimate Théâtre du Centaure to the Théâtre des Capucins, the Kasemattentheater and the Grand Théâtre.

www.theatres.lu

A very special cultural centre with exhibitions, concerts and markets, somewhat alternative and highly innovative, is the Rotondes in the district of Bonnevoie. Locals also meet up here, at the Buvette bar and restaurant, with its large colourful terrace and cool vibes.

www.rotondes.lu

Do you fancy some modern dance and innovative choreography? You will find it at the “TROIS C-L – Centre de création chorégraphique luxembourgeois”: both as an events venue and also as an opportunity to train in dance yourself.

Immerse yourself in a world of green

The Gutland region is a green paradise for nature lovers and people who simply like to duck out from time to time and leave the hectic pace of everyday life behind. Relax, breathe deeply, and allow your gaze to wander: in every village and behind every bend, there are beautiful landscapes and views.

The Attert cycle path follows an ancient railway line and, for the most part, runs right along the Belgian-Luxembourg border.

The Alzette river snakes its way through the valley of the same name alongside the rose garden in Walferdange, through blooming orchards and past farms.

Dive into a region that combines pleasure with a more relaxed pace of life.

Splashing around at the "Réidener Schwemm"

High spirits and aqua fun are guaranteed all year round at the swimming pool in Redange – there are outdoor and indoor pools, a kids' pool, slide, whirlpool and outdoor wave pool, as well as a wellness centre with five different saunas, a gym, solarium, café, terrace and plenty of room to play. In summer, you can relax on sun loungers, surrounded by the beautiful scenery of Gutland. The recent addition of two new racer water slides promises even more fun: on the Magic Twice, two of you can race down head-to-head, while the Turbo Speed is the fastest slide in the whole Greater Region.

MORE THINGS TO DO GUTTLAND

Fortresses and castles, the pleasures of nature, and the rural life of yesteryear

The Gutland region, close to the country's capital city, is a popular area for local leisure pursuits, and the region par excellence for fortresses and castles. Nowhere else in Luxembourg are they found in such density as in the Valley of the Seven Castles, with castles in Mersch, Schoenfels, Ansembourg and Koerich, and hill-top fortresses at Hollenfels, Ansembourg and Septfontaines. Festivals and markets ensure that the old walls are regularly filled with life again. Each has its own charm and style. In addition to the seven castles in the valley itself, the nearby castle at Useldange is also well worth a visit. You can enjoy a pleasant and pleasurable discovery of the valley from the comfort of your car, for example. Behind every corner a pleasing view, an enchanting tree-lined road or a romantic building awaits.

Do you like exploring by bike? Then you should explore the thematic cycling routes. The natural environment of the Gutland region is an excellent place to take life at a slower pace – the national and regional cycle routes and three circular tours in the west are an open invitation.

For walkers too, Gutland is a region worth exploring. Here, the emphasis is not on physical exertion, but on enjoyment and the pleasure of moving outdoors in nature, with gently winding paths through ample green spaces, past small ponds and streams.

For information about the tours:
www.visitgutland.lu

One possible destination among many for an outing on foot or by bike is the Beckericher Millen, a former mill that now houses exhibitions and a restaurant and café within its historic walls and mill buildings, along with many items of farming machinery and equipment from the time when it served as a sawmill.

Workshops and seminars about the way of life and crafts in earlier times are also held in the Beckerich Mill.

Beckerich, incidentally, is a highly innovative and sustainable village with many projects linked to environmental protection. The region even has its own currency to boost the local economy, the “Beki”.

Anyone who loves nature and is looking for something special should get to know the Aarnesch nature reserve in Niederanven. Its semi-dry grasslands feature a wide variety of orchids. Five nature reserves in the Gutland region invite you to learn more about various themes and aspects of the natural world; for example, birds and their young in the Schlammwiss nature conservation area in Uebersyren, marshlands in the Marais de Grendel nature reserve in Colpach, the Pëttenerbësch nature reserve in Pettingen (the geographical centre of Luxembourg), and the Schwaarzenhaff nature reserve, which lies in the Natura 2000 area of the Mamer and Eisch Valley and is part of the biggest nature conservation area of European importance in Luxembourg. The site is a habitat for rare animals such as the midwife toad and bats.

The Gutland region harbours secrets too. In the forest between Mersch and Keispelt, there is a unique cave system. The “Mamer-leeën” comprise natural sandstone caves and a network of man-made shafts. The system of caves and shafts extends from the “Huellay” in the south for over 1km northwards, towards Mersch.

The Gutland region is not only impressive for its natural environment and its hiking trails, but also on account of its many prehistoric and ancient sites, which notably include many Gallo-Roman sites, such as the Roman villa in Mersch, the Gallo-Roman baths in Mamer, the Gallo-Roman aqueduct in the Helmsange forest, and the Gallo-Roman villa of Goeblange. The rustic villa of Goeblange-Miecher is one of the most important Gallo-Roman estates in the Trévires territory. Built at the beginning of the 1st century, it covers a fortified area of five hectares with at least seven stone buildings. Next to the luxurious mansion and the other older bourgeois house, another residential building, a small temple and three outbuildings complete the current picture. Even if these are just foundations, you can easily get a sense of it with a little imagination. If the Stone Age fascinates you, come and take a tour of the reconstructed Neolithic village in Blaschette, visit the Celtic aristocratic tombs of Nospelt, the Merovingian necropolis of Dondelange or the impressive menhir of Mersch.

Do you want to dive into the history of rural life in earlier times? In small rural museums, that earlier life is on display, whether in relation to crafts or farming. Discover the different facets of Gutland's past - from the history of the Luxembourg Fire Brigade to pottery. Refresh your knowledge of rural life in the Thillenvogtei Museum in Rindschleiden – the smallest village in Luxembourg and home to an appealing and original café - or visit the Distillery Museum in Kehlen; take a look at a fire brigade exhibition in Senningen, the Geological Institute in Reimberg, the Railway Museum in Noerdange or visit the Archaeological Museum in Nospelt, where original finds from the Stone Age to the Roman period are exhibited.

Gutland is another region with very special traditions: for example, “Émaischen” is a folk festival held every year on Easter weekend in Nospelt. At the heart of it are the “Péckvillercher”, fired clay pipes in the form of a bird. They are particularly popular with children and collectors. In addition to these small hand-made pipes and stalls offering a wide range of pottery, you can also look forward to concerts, workshops and exhibitions. In September, the traditional “Kropemannsfest” is held. Since this festival is arranged in honour of the legendary figure of the “Kropemann”, naturally he puts in an appearance at these celebrations.

Far removed from traditions and life in earlier times, things can also be totally cool and contemporary in the Gutland region. For instance, the small village of Kahler (Koler in Luxembourgish) is full of vibrant and colourful urban art that a young artist from the village has designed on house walls, barns and brick walls – under the motto: “Make Koler Kooler”. Residents and visitors are equally impressed that the village is becoming ever more appealing and diverse. A new cinema has also been built, offering a daily, wide-ranging programme extending from art-house films to blockbusters.

Active, with sprawling vistas

The Éislek is also known as the Luxembourg Ardennes.

Characterised by rugged valleys, high plateaus and forests, the region naturally invites visitors to get active.

In walking gear or on a mountain bike, take a break and admire the unique and attractive landscape that unfolds at your feet. Leading Quality Trail walking routes such as the “Escapardenne Lee Trail” attract even the most ambitious hikers and offer many high points, in the truest sense of the word.

Several castles grace the Luxembourg Ardennes, including in Vianden, where you can take a chairlift to the heights and enjoy fantastic panoramas, without needing your hiking boots.

Water Mill Museum: 1,000 years of industrial history

The oldest mill in the Grand Duchy has nearly 1,000 years of history under its wheel. It is located in Asselborn, 8km west of Clervaux in the valley of the Tratterbach stream, known as the “Valley of Peace”. It now houses a small museum showing how a mill like this used to work and what kind of tools were used here. The history of the mill can be traced back to the year 1036. The mill and the water wheel may be put into operation at the request of visitors.

Post Service and Writing Instruments Museums

What did people write with in the past? Long before biros and computers, they used inkwells, pencil boxes and the earliest pens. The Museum of Writing Instruments shows how these changed over the years. In an original classroom from the year 1900, you can see the writing instruments in their natural environment. The Museum of Post Service takes you back to the 16th century, when this building was still a place where horses were watered and people could rest and take some refreshment. Discover the history of the Princely House of Thurn & Taxis, founders of the postal service, and find out how exciting it was to travel by stagecoach. # Bourscheid Castle and Gothic manor house Bourscheid Castle is Luxembourg's biggest castle, an impressive structure with its characteristic round towers. The castle was probably built in the 10th century, and then extended in the 14th and 15th centuries, when the fortress wall was added, flanked by six Gothic towers. Nowadays, audio guides in seven different languages guide visitors round the castle. There are amazing views from the castle of the whole valley around Bourscheid. In the evening, the building is illuminated, creating a fairy-tale atmosphere. The nearby Stolzembourg House is a magnificent Gothic manor house dating back to 1348.

Museum of the Battle of the Bulge: Memories of the Liberation

The Battle of the Bulge was one of the biggest and most complex battles of the Second World War. It was as a result of this battle that US General Patton, to whom a monument stands in Ettelbruck, and his Third Army were finally able to free the people of Luxembourg from the German occupation. The museum tells the story of this difficult time and keeps the memory alive of the Americans who liberated the country. Numerous documents, uniforms and weapons from the Battle of the Bulge in the winter of 1944-45 are on display here. The exhibition is in the inner courtyard of the castle.

What is humanity? The Family of Man exhibition

What does all humanity have in common? This, no less, is the ambitious theme of The Family of Man. It is a famous and moving exhibition of photographs that has been on the UNESCO World Documentary Heritage list since 2003. It is a manifesto for peace between people. The exhibition consists of 503 pictures by 273 photographers from 68 countries, including Robert Capa, Henri Cartier-Bresson, August Sander and Dorothea Lange. Curated by Edward Steichen and first displayed at the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) in New York in 1955, the exhibition has had its permanent home at Clervaux Castle since the 1990s.

Guided tour of Clervaux: an open-air art gallery

The town of Clervaux is remarkable for its artistic flair. The most well-known sights there include the Abbey, the Loreto Chapel, the deanery church and the castle. But one unusual feature of this little place in the Éislek region is the number of exhibition spaces for contemporary photography that can be found in many of the town's public spaces. Such installations literally turn Clervaux into an open-air art gallery. Sometimes called the "city of the image", it also hosts various independent projects, workshops and conferences to do with the medium of photography. See it all for yourself on a tour of a town where art, a breath of history, and picturesque unspoilt scenery combine to create a total artwork.

National Museum for Historic Vehicles

This exhibition of vintage cars traces automotive history from the earliest days of car-making to the technology of the 1970s. It is housed in Jean Wagner's former car factory, the only historic site in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg to be associated with the car manufacturing industry. On display are vehicles from collections in Luxembourg and other countries that are typical of the different periods of vehicle construction. The museum also hosts a busy programme of conferences and events. In addition, beer-lovers and others will enjoy making a detour to another small museum in the same building – a private collection of more than 1,000 artefacts that tell the story of the Diekirch brewery.

Museum of the History of Diekirch: a donkey is the town's mascot

In the centre of the historic Old Town of Diekirch, a museum reveals the secrets of the town's past. You can see exciting historic discoveries such as an ancient Roman mosaic and find out what archaeologists, historians and geologists have studied here – from the mysteries of faith to urban phenomena. A large number of educational activities round off the museum's programme of events, such as special workshops for children about the exhibitions. It's definitely also worth making a detour to the nearby St Laurence Church which dates back to the 7th century. The town's mascot is a donkey, and in the pedestrian zone you'll find the Donkey Fountain, from which beer flows on special occasions!

National Museum of Military History

What sufferings did soldiers and civilians have to endure? The Battle of the Bulge was the key battle for the USA in the Second World War. At the National Museum of Military History, the fighting around Diekirch is reconstructed in large-scale dioramas, focusing on the fate of the people concerned. Also on display in the exhibition are weapons, vehicles and other military artefacts, together with numerous documents and archive photos. The museum also illustrates the history of the Resistance fighters in Luxembourg from 1940 to 1945 and the history of Luxembourg's army; there are also sections about Allied troops in the First and Second World Wars and the Korean War.

Splash around in Diekirch: swimming pool with beach

The swimming pool complex in Diekirch comprises a covered pool, a children's pool, an area for non-swimmers, a plunge pool and a diving board. There's also the spa and sauna for relaxation. In summer, it's time for fun on the beach, because that's when the "Diekirch Plage" is set up – complete with beach volleyball, outdoor pool, mini-football, a children's playground, drinks, snacks and ice cream. Admission to all of this summer fun is free of charge.

General Patton Memorial Museum Spotlight on the Battle of the Bulge

The museum is a tribute to General George S. Patton Jr. He was the commander of the Third US Army whose troops liberated the town of Ettelbruck during the Second World War, on 25 December 1944. Various photographs, documents and authentic objects illustrate the invasion, repression and persecution perpetrated by Germany and the liberation of Luxembourg in September 1944. The exhibition also tells the general's life story, displays military equipment and describes aerial warfare over Luxembourg. Anyone wishing to follow further in General Patton's footsteps can visit his last resting place in the American cemetery in Hamm on the outskirts of Luxembourg City.

Old Cloth Factory "Duch vum Séi"

A former cloth factory is home to an exhibition about the history of wool processing and cloth manufacture. Demonstrations of cloth-making are given on carefully restored textile machines that can be put into operation for guided tours on request. The exclusive woollen fabrics that are made here are available to purchase from the museum shop. The blankets, shawls, ponchos, wash bags, handbags and key fobs are only made in small numbers and are therefore unique. On the first floor of the cloth factory, an interactive exhibition tells visitors about the Upper Sûre Nature Park, the people who live there and the fauna and flora around the reservoir.

Vianden Castle: an outstanding historical monument

Vianden Castle is a real magnet for visitors, being one of the biggest and most beautiful feudal residences from the Romanesque and Gothic periods. The castle was built between the 11th and 14th century on the foundations of a Roman castle and a Carolingian refuge and for a long time belonged to the Grand Ducal family, before passing into state ownership in 1977. Since then it has been restored to all its former glory. Today, Vianden Castle is one of Europe's leading historical monuments. There is a modern, interactive visitor centre in the entrance area.

MORE THINGS TO DO ÉISLEK

Excellent walking routes, magical tours and bathing fun

The rolling hills of the Éislek region, interspersed with picturesque valleys and with its special flora and fauna, can be explored to their fullest on the various walking routes, suited to every type of walker. Idyllic villages and small towns make for ideal stop-offs along the way.

Highlights for hikers are the Escapardenne Lee Trail, a Leading Quality Trail – Best of Europe-certified route; the Eislek Trail, which continues the Lee Trail and extends over the northern border of the country into Belgium; and the Nat'Our Routes, certified as “Premium Hiking Routes”. Walking from station to station is attractive and also convenient, with walking routes following the CFL rail lines.

www.escapardenne.eu

Walking without borders is the message on the nine circular walks (170 km) of the “NaturWanderPark Delux”: along the Sûre and Our rivers, through the unique farmed and natural landscapes of the Sûdeifel, Our and Nordeifel Nature Parks.

www.naturwanderpark.eu

Lovers of nature should definitely visit both the Upper-Sûre and Our Nature Parks. They make an active contribution to preserving the heritage of nature and cultivation, and in supporting a very wide variety of regional initiatives. Those initiatives, which are part of the spirit of the Eislek region, include very special regional products, grown on the farming lands in the north of the region – from poppies to buckwheat to hemp. Farm-to-table products can be sampled and purchased both from the farmers themselves and in the region's shops and supermarkets: ham, honey, mustard and cheeses, as well as beers and natural cosmetics.

The meeting point of the Alzette and Sûre rivers has shaped a unique natural landscape: the Nordstad valley, also known as the gateway to the Eislek region. Unpopulated hillsides and upland areas border the ribbon development of the towns. Thanks to the excellent rail connections between the Nordstad area and Luxembourg City, it is easy and quick to reach the Eislek region. So how about a cycling tour through the five municipalities that make up Nordstad? You can hire a bike in Schieren and ride the cycle route to Ettelbruck. The CAPE Arts Centre there stages a wide variety of events. From Ettelbruck, the route continues to the castle at Erpeldange-sur-Sûre. Beyond there, the tour takes you to Diekirch, with fantastic opportunities for stop-offs and shopping. The cycle route continues along the Sûre, to Bettendorf. You can even follow the Sûre by bike via Echternach, as far as the Moselle. If you want to explore the Nordstad on foot, the Adrien Ries hiking route, at 48 km long, is the perfect circular tour to discover the beautiful views of the Eislek region.

The Benedictine Abbey at Clervaux was built in 1910, after the style of Cluny. The church and the photo exhibition about monastery life, and the shop selling religious handicrafts, are open to visitors.

Do you want to really immerse yourself in the nature and history of Luxembourg? Then take a Hop On Hop Off Nature and Castle Tour, which will take you on a journey through the Luxembourg countryside and show you the enchanting natural sights of the Mullerthal area (known as "Luxembourg's Little Switzerland"), to Echternach, the oldest town, and the medieval town of Vianden. The tour runs on Tuesdays to Sundays, always starting at 9:30 from Avenue Monterey in Luxembourg City. Duration, including stops and visits is roughly 8 hours. The coach stops at four points on the tour: at the "Schéissendëmpel" waterfall with its impressive rock formations, at Beaufort Castle, in Vianden and in Echternach before returning to Luxembourg City.

Incidentally, the Upper-Sûre reservoir - in addition to supplying drinking water and generating electricity - is also a much-used leisure facility these days. Other than in the water protection zone, a variety of water sports are possible in the reservoir, such as swimming, canoeing, diving, windsurfing and sailing. The Belvédère panoramic platform offers impressive views of the reservoir.

The Éislek region also offers lots of bathing fun. In summer, its lakes rank amongst the most popular places in the country for bathing, and they reveal themselves as true centres of relaxation. How about an exhilarating canoe trip, a circular tour in a solar-powered boat, or a hike around the lake? In summer, two man-made lakes attract water-lovers of all ages to Weiswampach. While the upper lake is reserved for fishing, in the lower lake you can bathe,

Fairy-tale rocks and routes

Spectacular rocks, narrow gorges and picturesque valley streams, verdant meadows and magical forests: welcome to the Mullerthal.

Characterised by sandstone rocks and nature, the region is also known as "Luxembourg's Little Switzerland".

Walkers can best discover it on the 112-kilometre Mullerthal Trail.

A diverse world of plants lies in wait to be explored as the Mullerthal region is a true biotope.

And, moreover, quite literally a fairy tale, since many rock formations bear mysterious names and are closely connected with fables and legends.

In the Mullerthal, many paths lead to Echternach. During the Hopping Procession, thousands of people dance in the town's streets to traditional music.

The Mullerthal is set to move you in many ways.

Beaufort Castles: medieval fortifications and Renaissance elegance

In the beautiful countryside of Beaufort, you can visit not one but two castles. Not far from the chateau's idyllic little lake, an impressive medieval castle towers over the scene. It was built between 1050 and 1650. Following major repairs, the imposing ruins opened to the public as long ago as 1932 and today they are regarded as a historic monument. Just around the corner, you'll find the Renaissance castle, which dates from the 17th century. The fascinating interiors bring the magic of the past to life. The castle can only be visited on a guided tour, which ends with an opportunity to taste the chateau's famous Casséro liqueur.

Ramborn Cider Haff: a tradition of award-winning cider

Apples from meadow orchards are turned into delicious cider: Luxembourg has a tradition of cider-making, but for many years it was forgotten. The three founders of Ramborn Cider Haff aim to revive that tradition on their modern, renovated farm. Working with growers in the surrounding area, they use over 100 different apple varieties to make ciders that sometimes have unexpected flavours like vanilla or rum, and that have won several international prizes. The apples come from local orchards and are pressed on site; the various ciders are available for visitors to taste and purchase. You can tour the cider farm and its meadow orchards.

Museum at the Abbey of Echternach

In the Middle Ages, monks at the Echternach Abbey used to produce stunningly beautiful, elaborately decorated manuscripts that were famous all over Europe. Their story is told today in the museum that is housed in the vaulted cellars of the abbey palace, built in 1727. Perfect facsimiles of manuscripts such as the Codex Epternacensis that were produced in the scriptorium at Echternach are on display here. The Abbey Museum also gives an insight into the life and work of Saint Willibrord, who founded the Abbey of Echternach in the year 698; and his bones rest in the crypt of the basilica. The Hopping Procession that is now on the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage list also dates back to the time of Willibrord.

Hihof Prehistoric Museum: the development of mankind

The Hihof Museum, housed in a medieval building, explains the development of mankind from the Paleolithic era to the first farmers.

Artefacts from all over the world show how tools and weapons developed over a period of more than a million years. Chronological charts, maps and films bring the Stone Age to life. The most important exhibit is a copy of the skeleton of Loschbour man, known as "Loschi". The 8000-year-old skeleton was found beside the Löschbur stream near Heffingen; "Loschi" is Luxembourg's oldest resident!

The Roman villa of Echternach is one of the most important buildings from the Roman era north of the Alps. ## LAROCHEtte MULLERTHAL

The castles of Larochette

Two castles tower over this area and dominate the picturesque little town of Larochette (Fels in German). The buildings of the fortified castle, which dates back to before the 12th century, are perched on a promontory of Luxembourg sandstone, about 150m above the valley of the White Ernz, a tributary of the river Sûre. The oldest part of the castle is the Homburg Manor. It fell victim to a huge fire in 1565 and is still in ruins today. The Crêhange Manor is the only building that has so far been fully restored. Temporary art exhibitions fill its historic walls with life. The many footpaths and mountain biking routes in the area offer excellent views over the whole castle complex.

MORE THINGS TO DO MÜLLERTHAL

Fascinating geology, extensive views and "Leading Quality Trails"

The Mullerthal region is a paradise for walkers. Famed well beyond the country's borders is the 112km Mullerthal Trail. Three routes run through a fascinating, and sometimes rocky, landscape. The main trail is one of the "Leading Quality Trails – Best of Europe", a certification awarded by the European Ramblers Association. Depending on the section and route, the Mullerthal Trail is suitable both for beginners and for experienced walkers. The three routes each have their own character:

Route 1 offers the landscape elements typical of the region - rock, forest and meadows - in addition to cultural features. Route 2 runs through the heart of "Luxembourg's Little Switzerland", taking the walker to the most spectacular rock formations.

Route 3 is characterised primarily, in addition to rocks, by magical river valleys and romantic castles. The routes are connected with one another but can also be walked individually. As the trails can be joined at several points, they can be configured as you please. In addition, the Mullerthal Trail is supplemented by four "ExtraTours", which are similarly very attractive walking routes. They can be taken on either as beginners' walks or as supplementary tours, if the other routes have already been explored. We recommend the regional walking map and the Mullerthal Trail Pocket Guide, available online and in the region's tourist information offices.

When travelling in the Mullerthal region, the Heringer Millen Tourist Centre in the village of Mullerthal is well worth a visit. This restored flour mill, dating from the 17th century, houses a museum, together with one of the "Best of Wandern" test centres that are found across Europe, where all visitors are welcome to borrow high-quality walking equipment (boots, jackets, rucksacks, binoculars, etc.) free of charge. In addition, visitors will find information materials there, along with regional products, traditional picnic baskets or practical picnic rucksacks, and a restaurant. For walkers, the kitchen is open throughout the centre's opening hours, and you can refill your water bottle at the tap.

The "Kuelscheier" is a group of rocks with a special attraction right at its heart: a pitch-dark, narrow tunnel through the rock, around 100 metres long, enclosed at the top. In some places, it is so narrow that "one-way traffic" is the only way to get through. You'll need a torch with you to explore it on the "Adventure Kuelscheier" guided tour. Other bizarre rock formations on this route are the narrow passages of the "Rittergang" and "Déiwepëtz". Length: 3.5 km.

For more ideas for guided walks and tours, visit:

www.mullerthal.lu/en/discover/guided-tours

Bike and e-bike riders can look forward to thrilling tours through the countryside or along pleasant routes beside the Sûre river as it runs along the border. Scenic tours: Berdorf-Consdorf-Bech Cliff Route > 43 km; Rosport-Mompach-Echternach Tudor Tour > 43 km. Sixteen racing bike tours with widely-varying degrees of difficulty and elevation profiles have been devised in collaboration with the local cycling club, Mullerthal Cycling. There are five mountain bike trails. Eleven "Rent-a-Bike" hire points offer a repair service seven days a week. In addition, there is a luggage forwarding service (page 95).

Extensive, wonderfully attractive views, fascinating rock formations, impressive culture and history: you are welcome to explore the region conveniently by car, motorbike or coach. At Mullerthal Touring, you will find six suggested tours for this. www.mullerthal.lu/en/discover/mullerthal-touring

The “Schiessentümpel” is a picturesque waterfall on the Black Ernz river. The water shoots over a rock edge in three streams, tumbling into a rock basin below. The name Schiessentümpel as used today refers to both the bridge and the waterfall. The sandstone bridge was built in 1879, and since then has been the symbol of the region. You reach the Schiessentümpel either via a short walk on foot, around 1 km starting from the Heringer Millen Tourist Centre on local paths (W6 & W7), or from the nearby, larger car park between the village of Mullerthal and the Breidweiler Bridge junction on the CR121. You can walk along the road or take the Mullerthal Trail Route 3, heading towards Mullerthal. Here, a new highlight awaits the visitor: a 90 metre-long construction of steps in steel and local wood, opened in 2019, attached to the ground by 16 supports and anchored directly into the rock by seven fastenings.

www.mullerthal.lu/en/fiche/geotop/schiessentumpel-waterfalls

The unique geological heritage of imposing sandstone rocks with narrow gaps and deep gorges make the region something very special. You can see this at the Natur- a Geopark Mëllerdall, where the focus is on the nature and the fascinating geology of the region. The combination of nature park and geopark underlines the special importance and need to protect a landscape which should be preserved for future generations. The park offers a range of activities to discover the region: educational initiatives such as information boards, guided walks and leaflets help in understanding the geological aspects. The Natur- a Geopark Mëllerdall is a candidate for a UNESCO Global Geopark accreditation.

Pleasure, and a European spirit

The Moselle river meanders along the valley and region of the same name, forming a natural boundary with Germany.

The romantic beauty of the valley draws visitors to its famous wineries, charming hotels and medieval towns. Popular white wine grape varieties grow on sunlit slopes, before being turned into Riesling, Pinot Gris or the region's characteristic Auxerrois.

All kinds of fruit are cultivated here and made into spirits and juices.

These fine drinks can be enjoyed in picturesque villages and at traditional events.

From the vineyards around Schengen, the emblem of a united Europe, you have a wonderful view over the Moselle, where on its far bank the rest of Europe begins.

Magical Butterfly Garden

The Butterfly Garden in Grevenmacher introduces visitors to a magical world. In the near-tropical temperatures inside a glasshouse measuring over 600m<sup>2</sup>, you can see hundreds of exotic butterflies flying around. If you're lucky, one of these delicate creatures may even land on your arm. There's a lot more than the butterflies to see: in the tropical conditions here, at 28°C and between 70 and 80% humidity, Chinese painted quail, chameleons, tortoises, various birds and a colony of bees (behind glass) also thrive. Visit the museum shop and the brasserie with its terrace to round off your visit.

Traditional sparkling wine: Caves Bernard-Massard

When it comes to making still and sparkling wines using traditional methods, Bernard-Massard is Luxembourg's leading family-run winemaking business, with a total annual production of nearly 3,500,000 bottles. It is now managed by the fifth generation of the same family. On a guided tour of the cellars, you will learn all about the secrets of making wine and crémant (sparkling wine), including audiovisual presentations. The tour is followed by a tasting session in elegant surroundings, with views of the Moselle. In the charming wine bar, you will find the complete range of wines and cuvées from the different vineyards.

Playing cards, printing and film at the Kulturhuef

The Kulturhuef is home to an exhibition about the founder of a dynasty of playing card manufacturers, Jean Dieudonné, who settled in Grevenmacher in 1754. The second permanent exhibition is about book printing. The Kulturhuef is also home to a charming cinema which shows blockbusters, children's films and arthouse films and regularly hosts special screenings in the presence of directors and experts. On mild summer nights, cinema fans love the open-air "Moonlight Cinema". The menu at the bistro features regional produce. In summer, the terrace in the courtyard is an inviting place to enjoy a glass of Moselle wine in a Mediterranean ambience.

Thermal Park Stroll and relax

In Luxembourg's only spa town, Mondorf-les-Bains, the park at the thermal baths is a lovely place to stroll around and relax. The park covers more than 40 hectares and has something for everyone. In the new pop-up bar called La Roseraie, in the middle of the famous rose garden, visitors can sit and enjoy a drink or a snack in peace and quiet. But there are also more active attractions: practise your swing on the Easy Golf course (a game lasts about 90 minutes) or take a pedal boat with up to four people out on the water.

Caves du Sud: exploring Luxembourg's wine culture

The winegrowers' cooperative of Domaines Vinsmoselle was founded in 1921 and is now Luxembourg's leading producer of wine and crémant. More than 300 winemakers are members of the cooperative boasting four locations along the Moselle. The Caves du Sud winery, founded in 1948, is located at the heart of the vineyards in the south-east of Luxembourg. The Domaines Vinsmoselle team will be happy to welcome you in the unusual bar there and help you to enjoy learning about Luxembourg's wine culture on a fascinating tour. In summer you can sit outside on the sunny terrace to taste the many and varied flavours of Moselle wines.

Biodiversum: nature meets futuristic architecture

The futuristic nature conservation centre Biodiversum was created on an artificial island at the foot of the vineyards in the Haff Réimech nature conservation area. On the ground floor, there are displays about the history of the nature conservation area and about the underwater world. On the top floor, visitors can learn all about the birds and plants here, other nature conservation areas in Luxembourg, environmental protection and sustainability. It's a good idea to combine your visit here with a birdwatching tour of the nature reserve, which is of great importance for the huge diversity of bird species here and the wealth of fauna and flora. ## Caves St Martin: underground wine paradise

If you are following Luxembourg's Wine Route, you must visit the prestigious Caves St Martin winery just outside Remich, known as the "Pearl of the Moselle". Take a guided tour, including wine tasting, during which you will walk to the heart of the underground tunnels – nearly a kilometre long – that have been carved into the solid limestone rock. After exploring the wine-tasting cellar and shop, you can relax on the terrace overlooking the Moselle. The Caves St Martin hosts many workshops and special events, and refreshments are available from the Pavilion Saint-Martin. Warm clothing is recommended because the temperature in the tunnels is a constant, damp 12°C.

The Spirit of Europe: European Information Centre

The small, picturesque winegrowing village of Schengen in the Three Country Corner became world-famous over 30 years ago as a positive symbol of open borders in Europe. At the European Museum in Schengen, you can gain an insight into the Schengen Agreement. Visitors also learn a great deal about the history of Europe. Stroll across the Place des Étoiles (Stars Square) where you'll find the Columns of the Nations and an original piece of the Berlin Wall. Walk along the riverside promenade where the boats are moored, and take a look at the three steel monuments on the Place de l'Accord de Schengen.

A mysterious habitat Wasserbillig Aquarium

“A fascinating aquarium, a mysterious habitat” – enter the colourful, species-rich diversity of the underwater world. Here you’ll find exotic and native fish living in saltwater and freshwater tanks where whole landscapes have been created from plants and rocks. The 15 different aquariums contain a total of 90,000 litres of water. The rocky tanks are full of South and East American perch, while discus, angelfish, neon tetra and the like hunt for food in the more densely planted tanks. You can also admire the vicious but shy and exotic piranhas and even pike, one of the biggest predatory fish in Luxembourg’s waters. Visitors can watch the fish being fed every day, with commentary.

MORE THINGS TO DO MOSELLE

Diverse nature and beautiful views over the vineyards and winding river

Admire the panorama! The Moselle region has some magnificent viewpoints. For instance, between Stadbredimus and Greiveldange, on the Scheierbierg in Remich, from the top of the most famous Moselle vineyard, Koeppchen, or at one of the most photographed places along the Moselle, the Deisermillen in Machtum.

www.visitmoselle.lu

The Moselle is a paradise for nature-lovers. Visit the former gravel pits at Remerschen/Wintrange, with the futuristically-designed Biodiversum Centre in the Haff-Réimech nature reserve (page 122), a marshland area of European significance due to the wide variety of species found there. Two nature trails with observation cabins enable you to discover fauna and flora up close.

Another nature reserve in the Moselle region is “A Wiewesch” in Manternach. It is surrounded by fruit orchards, and only a few hundred metres away from the Manternacher Fiels nature reserve, where you can marvel at the biggest wooded gorge in the Grand Duchy. The many paths and themed walks organised by the nature reserve centre invite you to discover the diverse countryside.

At the Moselle, you can also enjoy outstanding walks – on premium routes such as the three dream loops off the “Saar-Hunsrück-Steig” hiking path, guaranteeing unforgettable circular walks on foot through the region.

The average-difficulty “Manternacher Fiels” route runs through the nature reserve of the same name, past an impressive forested canyon, through gigantic stratifications of rock and the narrow Kerbtal valley. En route, you will be treated with wonderful panoramic views on the Lelliger Plateau, and a vineyard in the heart of a forest.

Schengen without Borders starts in the village on the Moselle that became famous with the signing of the Schengen Agreement in 1985, and which stands for a Europe without borders. The walk leads from the European Museum to the “Strombierg” nature reserve, and onwards towards France in the area around the winegrowing village of Contz-les-Bains. Magnificent views into the Moselle valley, sloping vineyards, extensive panoramic views towards Luxembourg and France’s Lorraine region, and the untamed nature of the Strombierg make this walk a memorable experience.

The dream loop route “Palmburg Ahn Wine & Nature Path”, starting from the small winemaking village of Ahn, offers a great combination for walkers. It runs past the inclined limestone rock strata and through the sloping vineyards of the Palmburg, with magnificent views over the Moselle valley below. After walking through forests rich in diversity of species, you reach a nature reserve with a stock of ancient boxwood and meadows full of orchids. The final section runs through the Donverbach valley, with its waterfalls and a wooded gorge.

The Romans have left impressive traces of their presence in the Moselle region. As part of the Roman Trail, there are a number of sites and relics of the Roman period to visit – on foot, by bike or by car.

www.strassen-der-roemer.eu

Do you want to discover a region in a wholly different way for a change? Then try out the free app “Psst – Lauschtouren Miselerland”, which presents the region, towns, tours, monuments, hiking routes, museums and other sites in the Moselle region in an entertaining and informative way, under the slogan of "Listen and Discover". A personal audio guide in four languages which you load onto your phone, guides you through your target destination via GPS. Each tour is unique and individually presented by personalities from the respective region. They tell authentic stories, underpinned with sound, humour and imagination, and in some cases with photos too.

Of course, in this region famous for its wine and sparkling wine (Crémant de Luxembourg), a particular recommendation on any tour is to stop off at one of the many private winemakers. In the Moselle valley and in the foothills, there are also plenty of restaurants with a traditional cuisine based on locally-sourced products, offering guests a sophisticated yet authentic gastronomy. Trout in Riesling sauce, fried fish that you eat with your fingers, and crayfish à la luxembourgeoise rank amongst the greatest of culinary specialities from the region. Those restaurants with the "Ambassadeurs" label are official representatives for Luxembourg wines and crémants, and offer a wide selection of vintages. Varieties of schnapps, juices, jams, honey, pastries and sausages are also produced in the Moselle region, and all are well worth trying. See for yourself, in one of the many regional restaurants or at the weekly and monthly fresh produce markets in Schengen, Remich, Grevenmacher and Mondorf-les-Bains.

www.vins-cremants.lu

Relaxation and well-being is similarly the order of the day in Mondorf-les-Bains. In this spa town, you can combine wellness, health and culture together perfectly. Bathing delights, a sauna and other temples to wellness await at the thermal baths. The adjoining park (page 118) comprises over 40 hectares and is a paradise for nature-lovers. Families can enjoy a pedalo ride or a round of minigolf. Take a pleasant walk and discover ancient baths, the orangerie and the "Waasserhaus".

LAND OF THE RED ROCKS

Industrial heritage in the Minett

The Minett, also known as the “Land of the Red Rocks”, owes its name to the red soil that shines out from afar in many places.

The colour comes from the iron ore, at one time the basis for the worldwide success of the Luxembourg steel industry.

Today, the Minett Tour allows you to follow the traces of the back-breaking and frequently hazardous mining past.

But you can also get a sense of progress and innovation in Esch-Belval.

Soak up the modern architecture, which projects energetically skywards between the disused blast furnaces, offering a home full of future promise to the young university.

"An der Schwemm" swimming and wellness centre

All kinds of fun and games, exercise and relaxation to do with swimming and wellness – it's all there at the "An der Schwemm" swimming and wellness centre. For water babies, there are pools for both proficient swimmers and beginners, a waterfall, a paddling pool with mini-slide, and the spectacular 40-metre-long "Black Hole" slide with sound and flashing LED strobe lights. Afterwards, you can relax on the roof terrace or at the juice bar. The sauna complex features two Finnish saunas with infrared therapy lights, a steam bath, plunge pool, Kneipp pool and a rest area with deck-chairs. A bistro with outdoor terrace, a small shop and a restaurant add the finishing touches.

Bettembourg Fairytale Park: a wonderful fantasy world

At the Fairytale Park, it's all about fun, adventure and imagination, exploring and learning. Children will have an unforgettable day in this enchanting place. Snow White, Cinderella and other fairy-tale characters are brought to life in the Fairytale Forest. Then you move on to the large animal enclosure with its domestic and more exotic animals, the aquariums and terrariums and the Amazonia tropical house. The miniature train and Pony Express are also very popular. Children can work off their energy on the big playground, drive with the mini-cars or play at mini-golf. Refreshments are available in the restaurant or the cafeteria with its covered terrace.

The Bitter Years exhibition in a former water tower

Climb up all the steps, it'll be worth it!
“The Bitter Years” is the last exhibition that Luxembourg-born Edward Steichen curated as Director of the Photography Department at the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) in New York. This emotionally moving exhibition from 1962 is now housed in an old restored water tower, on the site of a former steelworks. The Bitter Years is a kind of homage to documentary photography and comprises more than 200 images. They show rural America during the global economic crisis known as the Great Depression. Regular events and temporary photographic exhibitions are held in the old pump house next to the tower, the Pomhouse.

Climbing among the treetops at the Parc Le'h

You need a good sense of balance and a bit of strength and courage in the climbing park.

Part of the beautiful Parc Le'h in Dudelange, it offers over 100 different challenges on seven routes, including nets, rope bridges, surfing, zip lines, Tarzan and "monkey trees", plus circuits for young children and for team-building events. The maximum height is a dizzying 17m - not for the fainthearted!

There's something for everyone – for toddlers (from +/- age 2), adults and grandparents – whether they come as a group, for a stag party, a birthday celebration or a family or corporate event. Afterwards, you can eat at the Parc Le'h restaurant.

Blast furnaces in the City of Science

The blast furnaces of Belval that form part of the City of Science at the new university are a major tourist attraction and cultural highlight. You can climb up more than 180 steps to reach a height of 40m in blast furnace A, as part of a guided tour led by former steelworkers. From there you have an amazing view of a unique ensemble of urban buildings. A few times a year, it's possible to visit the blast furnaces by night. An exhibition in the Massenoire building provides an introduction to the university quarter and describes the history of the iron and steel industry and the development of the southern part of Luxembourg. Just nearby is the Rockhal concert hall.

Minett Park Fond-de-Gras: steam train rides and a glimpse of mining

Nowadays, it's hard to imagine that the peaceful little valley of Fond-de-Gras was, until the 1960s, one of the country's leading mining centres. At the Minett Park Fond-de-Gras, over 100 years of industrial history in the south of Luxembourg are brought vividly to life. The Train 1900 steam train links Pétange with Fond-de-Gras just as it used to around the turn of the last century. The "Minièresbunn" miners' train takes visitors through a tunnel where iron ore used to be extracted, from Fond-de-Gras to the mining village of Lasauvage and as far as Saulnes (in France). In summer, the Blues Express music festival and the Steampunk Convention make this open-air museum rock!

Life on the land: the Rural and Artisanal Museum

What was life in the countryside like nearly 200 years ago? This museum is housed in an old farm built in 1840 and shows what working on a farm was like, along with many former village craftsmen's workshops. You can also see a number of examples of agricultural machinery and furniture from the 19th century. Visitors are guided round by an audio tour. There's a playground for children and a welcoming café-restaurant where visitors can go to enjoy some local specialities.

Underground at the National Mining Museum

Travel around underground like a miner! To enter the mine, visitors travel, just like the workers did, on the mine railway for about 20 minutes. Then they continue on foot. On the way, a museum guide explains all about the work of the men who used to spend the whole day in the underground tunnels. Most of the museum's collection is housed in the actual mine, so the tools and machines are displayed in their natural environment, so to speak, and bear witness to over 100 years of technical progress in iron ore mining. The tours of the mine last about 1.5 hours and are always for groups, escorted by a museum guide.

MORE THINGS TO DO LAND OF THE RED ROCKS

On the Minett Tour between past and present

Want to learn all about the exciting industrial history of the Land of the Red Rocks? Then go on the Minett Tour (www.minett-tour.lu). This route, roughly 35km long, links five sites with various thematic focuses associated with mining for iron ore and steel manufacturing. In addition to the Minett-Park Fond-de-Gras presented earlier (page 150), the tour also features the following places:

The restored blast furnaces in Belval/Esch-sur-Alzette (page 149) lie at the heart of the City of Science, comprising the modern university and business site. To discover more, guided tours take you inside the furnace and on an ascent to a viewing platform with fantastic views over the site and its surrounding area.

In Esch-sur-Alzette, the Cockerill Mine Museum invites you to dive into the world of the miners, thanks to a rich collection of tools and a committed group of volunteers who are preserving the working life of the Katzenberg pit - which only shut in 1967 - for future generations. Guided tours are available.

The National Mining Museum (page 153) is located in Rumelange. The traditional viewing tour starts with a ride on a mine railway. This crosses the above-ground slag heap and enters the mine via the Langengrund gallery. The museum's collection comprises machinery, equipment and archive documents relating to iron ore mining in Luxembourg from the middle of the 19th century through to the 1980s.

The Human Migration Documentation Centre (CDMH) in Dudelange conveys a sense of how greatly society has been influenced by the country's steel history. In fact, very many miners came from abroad, especially from Portugal and Italy. From the impressive water tower in Dudelange (page 144), walk through the former workers' district of the Italian Quarter and then on through the nature reserve, on the trail of the steel industry. En route, you will discover what a "Humpen" is.

In the small, sleepy village of Lasauvage on the French border, there is plenty of industrial history to marvel at. This former mining village is today home to silent witnesses of earlier times, such as the overhead pylons for what used to be the mine train (the "Minièresbunn"), old bridges and sheds. In Lasauvage, you will also find two museums. With a little luck, you can even find out about the legend from which the village gets its name. Incidentally, on certain days you can even ride the Minièresbunn from here to the Minett Park Fond-de-Gras.

On the "Sentier de la Crosnière" hiking trail, in the vicinity of Lasauvage, families will discover a true insider's tip: a place where children can discover nature through play. Helpful information boards guide them along the trail, a little over 3km in length. In addition to this trail, there are also other hiking routes to explore.

The former mining area of "Prénzebierg – Giele Botter" is well-suited to being explored on foot or by mountain bike. During the industrial age, it looked more like a clearance cutting operation than a natural environment here; the dominant colour was the red of the rock formations which held the sought-after iron ore within them. Once mining operations ended, however, another colour again moved into what today is a nature reserve: the green of self-seeded trees and newly-established biotopes brought into being a place of contrasts. When new conservation areas emerge from the “lunar landscape”, when nature again clings fast to land from which she was previously driven out, then the result is unique, impressive areas of landscape.

The Titelberg is a plateau site in the commune of Pétange. It was inhabited during the Iron Age and in Roman times; the evidence of this is numerous archaeological finds from various centuries. The Late Celtic and early provincial Roman oppidum dates from the heyday of the settlement there.

Those who like to undertake a journey of discovery into nature under their own steam and with a quest for knowledge will feel they have struck gold at the Ellergronn nature reserve and Nature Centre. There are six circular routes around the reserve, three of which are part of the European Natura 2000 network. Whether it is the 2.5 km route well-suited to families with small children, the 4.5 km themed route focusing on ore mining in the region, or the 5 km route through the forest, the diversity of the walking routes is a repeated invitation to wander through the biotope. Particularly keen walkers can combine all three routes together, making one long loop of twelve kilometres. The nature reserve, with its specifically-designated paths, is equally well-suited to mountain bikers, who – with or without a guide – can experience a true outdoor industrial heritage adventure here: passing old mine entrances, wagons, the relics of a cable-car or erstwhile rail tracks. Like all mountain bike routes in the region, what's offered at Ellergronn is aimed firmly at experienced riders; for those who like to undertake their journey of discovery in a group, it is also possible to do this with a personal guide.

The RedRock MTB Trails guide mountain bikers, amongst other places, through the nature reserves in the Minett region presented here. There are the Ellergronn, Haard-Black and Haard-Red trails, the Weiler-la-Tour route, the Belvaux-Differdange and Lalléngerberg-Gaalgebierg trail. Riders master thrilling courses, whilst seeing the former industrial region in a new light. That said, the terrain demands the fullest concentration and physical effort from riders – the protected nature reserves, formed by human hands and reclaimed by nature, present a challenging environment. Similar fun can be had on the pump tracks in Mondercange or Belval.

Families can discover a further highlight of the region on the Gaalgebierg hill, in close proximity to the town centre of Esch-sur-Alzette: around 25 animal species of can be visited the whole year round in the “Escher Déierpark”, including the roe deer, raccoon and Poitou donkey. On the “Heemelwee” path, children can stroke the animals. There is a chance to relax in the “Bamhaus-café”, and for those who have always wanted to spend a night close to their animal friends there is a back-to-nature shelter in the “Escher Bamhaiser” – right in the zoo, in a treehouse style. Visiting the park is free, and in the winter months you can let off steam here on a weather-proof, sustainable ice rink.

A taste of the Minett region: at the “Brasserie Nationale” in Bascharage, you can glimpse behind the scenes of the biggest brewery in Luxembourg. It's an absolute must for all beer-lovers, as a guided tour here will give you insights into the brewing process at a brewery which is around two hundred years old. Taste the difference between the popular beers Bofferding, Battin and Funck-Bricher, which is brewed to organic standards.
